

London 26.03.2013.

President of Parliament of Montenegro

Mr Ranko Krivokapić

Mr Krivokapić,

May I first thank you for your kind and gracious letter offering congratulations on my recent success at the Brit Awards. I was surprised and humbled by your words and the fact that you made the time to write. Amongst the many letters and calls I received, this was indeed special, and I am happy that I am able to share my success with you and citizens of Montenegro.

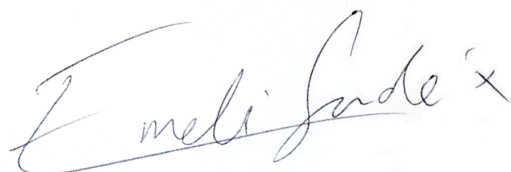

During my numerous visits, I have been overwhelmed by the generosity of spirit of the people in a country that I am now happy to be wedded to, through my union with my husband Adam. It will always have a special place in my heart, not only because I was lucky enough to exchange my marriage vows there in the summer and perform for a number of my fans in Kotor, but because of the kindness, love, friendship and warmth of the Montenegrin people during the many times that I have been fortunate enough to spend there.

I look forward to being back in a country that has seen fit to embrace me as one of its own and perform for you and my many fans again in the very near future.

My heartfelt thanks to you and the people of your country once again.

Yours sincerely,

Emeli Sandé

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Emeli Sandé" followed by a small 'x' mark. The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.